THE PASTOR'S CORNER

Dear Church
Family,

November is here,
and it's one of my favorite times of the year. In our home, this season is about gathering, sharing a delicious meal, and expressing gratitude. Lately, amidst the chaos in our world and the busyness in my own life, I often forget to say thanks. This is what led to the Thanksgiving sermon series titled "Finding Thanks When You Don't Feel It." Sometimes, when life gets overwhelming, we forget to give thanks. Some of us are tired, grieving, or anxious about the future. During such moments, feeling grateful isn't always easy. Still, the Bible teaches us that thanksgiving isn't just a response to good times; it's a spiritual habit that keeps us connected to God's presence.

In 1 Thessalonians 5:18, Paul writes, "Give thanks in all circumstances, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." Notice he doesn't say for all circumstances, but in them. Gratitude doesn't deny pain; it transforms how we walk through it. It shifts our focus from what's missing to what God is still doing in our lives.

This season, I invite you to slow down and look for signs of God's goodness, however small they may be. Maybe it's the laughter of a child, a warm cup of coffee on a chilly morning, a friend's encouraging word, or the quiet peace of prayer. Each of these is a reminder that God is near. As a church, let's help one another find thanks, not only in the big celebrations but in the small mercies that sustain us every day. May our gratitude become not just a feeling, but a way of seeing: eyes open to grace, hearts open to love, and hands open to share. This Thanksgiving, may we each rediscover that the greatest gift is not what we have, but the One who is always with us.

~Pastor Chad

YOUTH & YOUNG ADULTS

What do you know about the fruits of the spirit? Well, after we're done with our Chi Rho/CYF study about them, the students in our group will know far more about these nine virtues of love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. This is a great group to work with! They are fun, a bit silly, and always looking to learn and grow closer to God and to each other. If you want to join this group and are in 6th – 12th grade, please reach out to Charlotte Thompson, Leah Torosian, or the church office. We meet on Sunday nights from 6 to 7:30 pm at the Thompson's house.

The Young Adults are still collecting and sorting clothes for the Support Closet. If you'd like to donate, please let us know. Our date will be November 22 from 1 to 4 pm.
